

Goose in the Pond

This quilt came from a Church Raffle, its age and maker is unknown. Goose in the Pond is a traditional block featuring an engaging arrangement of squares, triangles and rectangles. Who thought we'd ever enjoy Geometry! Although the same shapes are repeated throughout the block, positioning changes can create a very eye-catching effect. Like many patchwork blocks, Goose in the Pond sports a name as interesting as its appearance. Was it inspired by thousands of birds on annual migration? Were they fowl on the farm? One would imagine this block pattern is at least partially inspired by birds.
