

Lone Stars

The Multi-color Lone Star quilt was made in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. Purchased by a local collector it was said to have come from the home of Annie Schmoyer, she wanted everyone to know it was hers. She may have had cared & custody of this quilt, it is not likely that she is the quilt maker. Some of the fabrics have been dated to the 1850s.

Fact or Fiction???

Lone Star quilts made for oneself may have blank corners. If this quilt is intended to be a gift their corners must be filled. To violate these “rules” is bad luck. Have you heard this before?
Do you have any information to share? Please tell us!
